The Honorable Matt Meyer
Governor, State of Delaware

Dear Students,

Welcome to this year's edition of the Delaware Career Compass. As you begin thinking about your future, taking time to explore your interests and goals can help you make informed decisions about the opportunities ahead. This guide is designed to help you discover and navigate a wide range of career possibilities.

It's normal to feel unsure about the path you want to pursue. One of the best ways to gain clarity is by getting involved in internships, clubs, volunteer work, and other community activities. I know firsthand that career journeys are rarely straight lines. Throughout my own career, I have been a public-school teacher, a lawyer, and a small business owner before entering public service and eventually serving as Governor of Delaware. Your own journey may take unexpected turns, and that's okay. Stay open-minded, be willing to explore, and embrace new opportunities as your interests and goals evolve.

No matter where your path leads, the State of Delaware is committed to supporting your growth and success. Use this resource to explore your options, set ambitious goals, and pursue them with confidence. Dream big, stay curious, and make the most of the opportunities ahead.

Sincerely,

Matt Meyer
Governor

LaKresha Moultrie
Secretary, Department of Labor

Dear Students,

As you begin thinking about your future, I want you to know something I wish someone had told me earlier: the path to a meaningful career doesn't look the same for everyone — and that's not just okay, it's a strength.

I was a first-generation college student, the first attorney in my family. There was no roadmap handed to me. But I had curiosity, determination, and people who believed in possibilities I hadn't yet imagined for myself. That's what I want for every Delaware student holding this booklet.

The careers defining the next decade — in healthcare, technology, skilled trades, and public service — are looking for people who are prepared and committed. Whether your path leads through a four-year degree, a registered apprenticeship, or a short-term credential, Delaware has invested in making those pathways more accessible than ever. This year, the Workforce Pell Grant extends federal financial aid to short-term training programs for the first time, opening doors that were previously closed to many Delawareans.

Let this booklet be your compass. Work through it honestly — explore who you are, learn what's out there, make a plan, and take that first step. Delaware believes in you...I believe in you! Read on, dream big, and go far.

Sincerely,

LaKresha Moultrie
Secretary of Labor

The cover theme for this edition of the Delaware Career Compass was inspired by the 1st Place winning poster from the Career and Technical Education (CTE) Month Poster Contest that was held by the Delaware Advisory Council on Career and Technical Education (DACCTE) in November 2025. The winning poster was created by Maya Zhao from MOT Charter High School. Maya's poster is a great way to show how CTE can help you Turn Your Passion Into a Profession! Congratulations to Maya on her concept and creativity!

How to Use This Guide

Career planning is too important to be left to chance. After all, the decisions you make now will affect the rest of your life. Self-reliance and a positive attitude are your keys to finding opportunities and making career choices that will be right for you and will provide you with rewarding experiences in the world of work. If you want the career of your choice, you must prepare. Career development is a series of steps that will help you get to know yourself and the labor market. But remember that planning for your future is not usually a steady progression up the steps. You will undoubtedly move up and down the steps as your life changes. You can't go wrong if you:

- ✓ Think about life as a journey filled with exciting unknowns.
- ✓ Look for the positive in every situation.
- ✓ Know what you want in life and avoid the quick fix. Stay true to your values and beliefs.
- ✓ Know your strengths and think about them every day.
- ✓ Identify your weaknesses and know that they are limitations, not flaws.
- ✓ Build on your strengths and find ways to reduce your limitations.
- ✓ Learn from your mistakes. Think about what you will do differently the next time.
- ✓ Learn to speak up for yourself and verbalize what you want.

The Delaware Career Compass is a step-by-step guide to career planning and is used to help students make informed career decisions. This workbook will help you learn about yourself, the world of work, and how to achieve your career goals. Be sure to follow the steps in order:

STEP 1

Through the activities in this step, you will learn more about yourself; your learning style, your likes, your interests, and your skills. You will also discover your Holland Code and which career clusters you like. This information will help guide you through the labor market information section of the Compass.

STEP 2

In this step, you will learn about a variety of occupations. The information is broken down by career cluster and includes information such as where projected job openings will be, how much money you can expect to make in different occupations, and what education or training is needed to get there.

STEP 3

This step combine steps 1 and 2 to help you develop personal and career objectives. It will give you a “reality check” on building a budget and how much money you will need to make to support your desired lifestyle.

STEP 4

This step provides valuable information about making the most of high school and preparing for college or a career. You will investigate options for education and training, and also the necessary steps to seek and keep a new job.

Attention Teachers...

Step 1

Who Am I?

What if you're not sure what kind of job or career you want? What if you have no idea what to do with your life? Rest assured - you're not alone! It takes a lot to develop a career plan and the research begins with YOU.

What makes you unique? A self-assessment is the important first step toward making a good career match. When you have finished the activities in Step 1, you will have a better understanding of yourself, and a good idea of what kind of work you might enjoy.

Begin With Your Dream

1. Imagine you are doing your dream job right now. Close your eyes and visualize yourself working. What are the specifics of this job? Answer the questions below to help you determine your dream job.

- Where are you? _____
- What are you doing? _____
- What are you wearing? _____
- Do you own your own business or are you working for someone else? _____
- Are you inside or outside? Office with a view? _____
- Are you using tools or equipment? A computer? A phone? _____
- Are people or animals depending on you? _____
- Do you feel important in your work? _____
- Are you traveling? _____
- What talents are you using? _____
- Do you look satisfied? Why? _____

2. Draw a detailed picture of yourself doing your dream job. Write the name of your dream occupation on the line below.

My dream occupation is: _____

Is Self-Employment for Me?

It's a great feeling to be your own boss. If you're motivated, confident, and innovative, starting your own business might be right for you. Being self-employed has its advantages but is also potentially risky. Read more about the advantages and risks of self-employment below. On page 3, Begin With Your Dream, you were asked if you saw yourself owning your own business or working for someone else. If you answered that you saw yourself owning your own business, complete the entrepreneurial assessment below and see if you still feel the same way about self-employment.

Advantages of being your own boss:

- Greater income potential
- Flexibility in your work schedule
- Freedom to choose what products and services you provide
- Working for your own interests rather than someone else's leads to more fulfilling and rewarding work

Risks of self-employment:

- Not guaranteed a steady income
- May not have sick/vacation pay or a retirement fund
- Hours may be long, especially when you first get started
- According to the Small Business Association, half of all new businesses fail within the first five years

Questions to ask yourself:

- Is there a market for my product or service?
- What expenses will I have? (be sure to include licensing, taxes, equipment, inventory, rent, advertising, utilities, and insurance)
- How will I find customers?
- What is the best way to advertise and what will it cost?
- Who is my competition? Can I afford to charge less to win customers?
- Do I have money for the start-up costs, or must I rely on bank loans or outside investments?

Entrepreneurial Assessment

Circle the number that best describes your work values. Then add up the total and match it to the key at the bottom.

3 = Strongly Agree

2 = Somewhat Agree

1 = Somewhat Disagree

0 = Strongly Disagree

What Is My Holland Code?

Dr. John Holland reasoned that people work best in environments that match their preferences. He theorized that both people and occupations can be loosely classified into six different groups. Most people are some combination of two or three of these groups. If you choose an occupation that matches your Holland Code, you will be more likely to achieve job satisfaction and success.

ACTIVITY: Discover Your Holland Code

Step 1: To complete the Holland Code activity on this page, check each box that applies to you.

Match Your Interests to Career Clusters

Career Clusters are groups of similar occupations and industries designed to help you better organize your career planning. In 2024, the National Career Cluster Framework was modernized, moving from 16 to 14 Career Clusters. Based on the letters of your Holland Code from page 10, review the chart below to find out which career clusters may be your best match. Keep in mind that your first letter usually carries the most weight. Find occupations within these Clusters at O*NET OnLine <https://www.onetonline.org/find/career>

Why is it important to match your Holland (interest) Code to the occupation's code?

Which Career Clusters Do I Like?

What Are My Work Values?

What is important to you in a job? Do you prefer to work with little supervision? Do you get bored if you have to do the same thing everyday or are you comfortable with a routine? How about the need to have a sense of accomplishment? Do you like to have people recognize your accomplishments? What about fairness in the workplace? The activity below will help you clarify the aspects of work that are most important to you. You should use your results for career exploration purposes only. Talk to your school counselor or a teacher for more help on how to use this tool.

1. Read each statement in the table below to complete the following sentence. Keep in mind as you read them that the next step is to sort them in order of importance.

"For my ideal job it is important that ..."

I ☐ ...I could try out my own ideas.	A ☐ ...I make use of my abilities.	B ☐ ...I would be treated fairly by the company.	N ☐ ...the job would provide for steady employment.
R ☐ ...I could do something different every day.	J ☐ ...I could work alone.	G ☐ ...my pay would compare well with that of other workers.	O ☐ ...I could do things for other people.
C ☐ ...I could be busy all the time.	K ☐ ...I would never be pressured to do things that go against my sense of right and wrong.	H ☐ ...my co-workers would be easy to get along with.	P ☐ ...I have supervisors who would back up their workers with management.
D ☐ ...the job would provide an opportunity for advancement.	L ☐ ...I could receive recognition for the work I do.	Q ☐ ...I have supervisors who train their workers well.	S ☐ ...the job would have good working conditions.
E ☐ ...I could give directions and instructions to others.	M ☐ ...I could make decisions on my own.	F ☐ ...the work could give me a feeling of accomplishment.	T ☐ ...I could plan my work with little supervision.

2. Write one letter from the above table in each box of the table at the top of the next page. Place each letter in the column that best matches how important it is for you to have a job like the one that is described. Put exactly 4 letters in each column. It may be helpful to check the box within each lettered box above so you know that you have already used it.

FOR EXAMPLE:

- If "A" (...I make use of my abilities) describes something that is more important to you than the statements in the other lettered boxes, write an "A" anywhere in Column 5.
- On the other hand, if "A" is less important to you when compared with the other statements, write "A" anywhere in Column 1.
- If statement "A" is neither the most important nor the least important, write it in one of the other columns (4, 3, or 2) that best matches how you feel.

Sort the statements

Helpful Tip:

After you place letter in the grid to the right, put a check in the corresponding box on the previous page so that you remember you have placed that letter.

Sort the statements
Most Important			Least Important
Column 5	Column 4	Column 3	Column 2	Column 1

3. Calculate your scores

a. Your score for each statement is the same as the number of the column you put it in. The letters in Column 5 each get a score of 5, the letters in Column 4 each get a score of 4, and so on.

b. Assign a score to every letter.

FOR EXAMPLE:

If you put letter "A" in column 3, then put a 3 next to "A" in the Achievement box at right.

ACHIEVEMENT
Statement	Column Number
F	+
TOTAL	=
Multiply TOTAL by 3	x 3
Achievement Score	=

INDEPENDENCE
Statement	Column Number
I
M	+
T	+
TOTAL	=
Multiply TOTAL by 2	x 2
Independence Score	=

RECOGNITION
Statement	Column Number
D
E	+
L	+
TOTAL	=
Multiply TOTAL by 2	x 2
Recognition Score	=

4. Add the numbers in each Column and write the TOTAL in the space provided.

5. Multiply each TOTAL (except for WORKING CONDITIONS) by the number provided and write your result next to the "=" sign.

RELATIONSHIPS
Statement	Column Number
H
K	+
O	+
TOTAL	=
Multiply TOTAL by 2	x 2
Relationships Score	=

SUPPORT
Statement	Column Number
P	+
Q	+

Multiply TOTAL by 2	x 2
Support Score	=

WORKING CONDITIONS
Statement	Column Number
G	+
J	+
N	+
R	+
S	+
Working Conditions Score	=

6. Write your scores from the previous page next to the matching work value below.

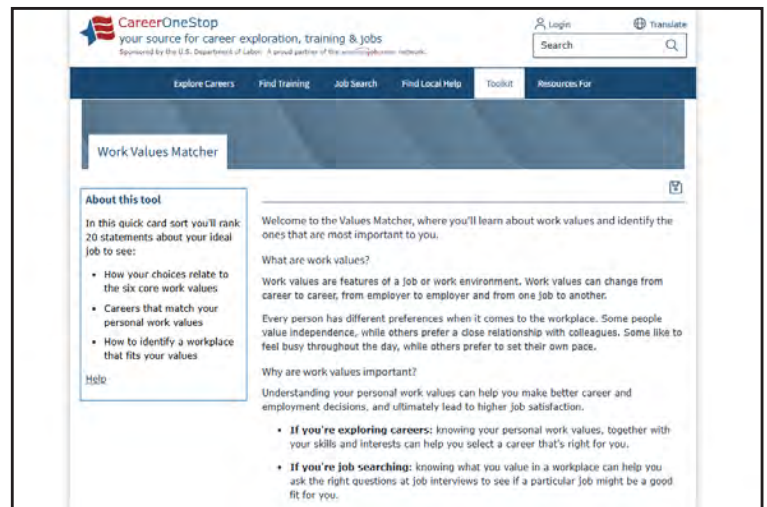

7. Your top two scores indicate the values that are the most important to your job happiness. Read their descriptions and then write down your top two values below.

	ACHIEVEMENT	If Achievement is your highest work value, look for jobs that let you use your best abilities. Look for work where you can see the results of your efforts. Explore jobs where you can get the feeling of accomplishment.
	INDEPENDENCE	If Independence is your highest work value, look for jobs where they let you do things on your own initiative. Explore work where you can make decisions on your own.
	RECOGNITION	If Recognition is your highest work value, explore jobs with good possibilities for advancement. Look for work with prestige or with the potential for leadership.
	RELATIONSHIPS	If Relationships is your highest work value, look for jobs where your co-workers are friendly. Look for work that lets you be of service to others. Explore jobs that do not make you do anything that goes against your sense of right and wrong.
	SUPPORT	If Support is your highest work value, look for jobs where the company stands behind its workers and where the workers are comfortable with management's style of supervision. Explore work in companies with a reputation for competent, considerate, and fair management.
	WORKING CONDITIONS	If Working Conditions is your highest work value, consider pay, job security, and good working conditions when looking at jobs. Look for work that suits your work style. Some people like to be busy all the time, or work alone, or have many different things to do. Explore jobs where you can take best advantage of your particular work style.

My top two work values are:

1. _____ 2. _____

8. Now that you know your most important work values and have read their descriptions, you are ready to find the occupations that are linked with them. To take this assessment online, visit the Work Values Matcher page on the CareerOneStop website here: <https://www.careeronestop.org/Toolkit/Careers/work-values-matcher.aspx>. Once you see your results, you can click on each of the work values for more information.

SMART Goal Setting

Goal setting is a helpful way to build the career you want. By setting objectives and creating a clear road map for how you'll reach your intended target, you can decide how to apply your time and resources to make progress. Without goals, it can be difficult to determine how to get a certain job, promotion or other milestones you want to achieve. Choose a goal for yourself and answer the questions in each section below. Be sure to double check your answers against the SMART Goal Checker. Use this for both short-term goals and long-term goals (3 months, 6 months, 1 year, 5 years, etc.). Try and also think about who could be a good mentor for you at each phase. Having a team of support people with you along the way increases your chances of success!

My goal:

Why my goal is really important to me?

What resources are needed to complete this goal?

What action steps are needed to complete this goal?

ACTION	DUE DATE

SMART Goal Checker

Is my goal...

- ☐ Specific - is it clear what action I have to take?
- ☐ Measurable - will I know exactly when I have completed my goal? Will I be able to track my progress?
- ☐ Attainable - is it possible if I make the required effort?
- ☐ Relevant - is it in line with my larger life vision?
- ☐ Timed - have I set a precise attainment date and time?

Step 2

What's Out There?

In Step 1, you learned about yourself and the kind of work you want to pursue. This section explores Delaware's labor market, including entry wages and education and/or training required. One of the most basic uses of labor market information is to help people who are unsure of what they want to do pick out potential career fields. It is important to learn as much as you can about the occupations that interest you. When you are finished with this step, you will have a wealth of occupational information to use in your career decision-making process.

Exploring the World of Work

The world of work is changing faster than ever. It's unlikely that you will stay with one employer for your entire career. In fact, by the age of thirty, you may have already had work experience with a number of different companies.

In these changing times, YOU must be the manager of your own career. It is important to understand the labor market and to know where you can find the latest information in order to make informed decisions throughout your life.

Here are just a few questions that labor market information can answer for you:

- Which occupations are growing?
- What wages can I expect for the jobs that interest me?
- What education or training is needed to be fully qualified for the jobs that interest me?
- What basic skills are needed for the occupations that interest me?
- Does it matter in which industry I choose to work?
- Does it matter where I choose to live?

This step will reveal some current facts about Delaware's labor market, and it will also provide resources and websites that you can use to explore your future employment needs.

Did you know...

Dietitians and Nutritionists (SOC Code 29-1031) average hourly wages vary from county to county?

DO THE MATH:

New Castle County:
 $$36.50 \times 2,080 = $75,920/\text{yr}$

Kent County:
 $$31.55 \times 2,080 = $65,624/\text{yr}$

Sussex County:
 $$38.59 \times 2,080 = $80,267/\text{yr}$

average hourly wage x 2,080 hours = average annual wage (2,080 = 40 hours/week x 52 weeks)*

This information may or may not be important to you, but having it gives you the power to make an educated decision.

Labor Market Information (LMI)

Career Clusters

The U.S. Department of Education developed 16 groups, or clusters, as a way to link school and work, helping you to choose a curriculum which is best suited to your career plans. In 2024, the National Career Cluster Framework was updated to 14 Career Clusters. The graph below shows how many annual job openings each cluster is projected to have from 2024–2034.

Through 2034, the Hospitality, Events & Tourism cluster is expected to generate the most job openings, 12,900 annually, while the Energy & Natural Resources cluster is expected to generate the fewest, at just 231 job openings annually.

Digital Technology is the highest-paying cluster; its occupations paid an average wage of $108,493 in 2024. Hospitality, Events & Tourism had the lowest average wage; this cluster's occupations paid an average wage of $37,476 in 2024.

Understanding the Delaware Career Matrix

The information within the Delaware Career Matrix, found on pages 28-41, is organized by the National Career Clusters® Framework. If the occupations you want to explore are not listed in the matrix, use O*NET OnLine (www.onetonline.org) or the Bureau of Labor Statistics (www.bls.gov) to find them. Use the reference key below to help you understand the information that is being provided in the tables on the following pages.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Holland Code	SOC Code	2024 Mean Wage	Occupation Title	2024 Est. Empl.	2034 Proj. Empl.	Education	Years work experience in a related occupation	On-the-job training

Holland Code (interest code) - The Holland Code represents personality characteristics that can be matched to occupational characteristics. To remind yourself of your Holland Code, see page 10.

NOTE: Although it is typical to describe an occupation with a three-letter Holland Code, some occupations have 1, 2, 3, or even 4 letters to describe the work environment. This is because some occupations are heavily weighted toward one characteristic and others are more inclined toward an equal distribution of several types. Do you have one characteristic that is much stronger than the others?

R - Realistic (Doers) I - Investigative (Thinkers) A - Artistic (Creators) S - Social (Helpers) E - Enterprising (Persuaders) C - Conventional (Organizers)

SOC Code - 2018 Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) system is used by federal statistical agencies to classify workers into occupational categories for the purpose of collecting, calculating, and/or disseminating data. All workers are classified into one of over 860 occupations according to their occupational definitions. Use the SOC code when looking for occupations at www.bls.gov or www.onetonline.org.
- 3

2024 Mean Wage ($) - The mean (average) wage per occupation is based on the data collected by the Occupational Employment Statistics program. Additional wage information (including entry level wages) can be found in the Delaware Wages 2024, published by the Delaware Department of Labor, Office of Occupational & Labor Market Information. <https://de.gov/Wages2024>

Occupation Title - Job titles are from the Occupational Employment & Wage Statistics (OEWS) Program or the O*NET Classification System.
- 5

2024 Est. Empl. - 2024 estimated employment from the Delaware Department of Labor. These data are updated and published every two years by the Office of Occupational & Labor Market Information.

2034 Est. Empl. - 2034 projected employment from the Delaware Department of Labor. These data are updated and published every two years by the Office of Occupational & Labor Market Information.

7 Education - The abbreviations in this column represent the typical level of education most workers need to enter the occupation.

PhD/Prof: Doctoral or professional degree: a doctorate usually requires at least 3 years of full-time academic work beyond a bachelor's degree. A professional degree also usually requires at least 3 years of full-time academic study beyond a bachelor's.

Mast: Master's degree: usually requires 1 or 2 years of full-time academic study beyond a bachelor's.

Bach: Bachelor's degree: generally requires at least 4 years, but not more than 5 years, of full-time academic study beyond high school.

Assoc: Associate's degree: usually requires at least 2 years but not more than 4 years of full-time academic study beyond high school.

VocEd: Postsecondary vocational training: programs lead to a certificate or other award, but not a degree. The certificate is awarded by the educational institution and is the result of completing formal postsecondary vocational training.

HS: High school diploma or equivalent.

NFE: No formal education credential is needed.

NOTE: Complete definitions for these classifications can be found at: <https://www.bls.gov/emp/documentation/education/tech.htm>

8 Work experience in a related occupation - For some occupations, work experience in a related occupation may be a typical method of entry. The majority of occupations in this category are first-line supervisors or managers of service, sales, and production occupations. This metric is meant to capture work experience that is commonly considered necessary by employers, or is a commonly accepted substitute for other, more formal types of training or education. Occupations are assigned one of the following three categories that deal with length of time spent gaining related work experience:

5+ (more than 5 years)

<5 (less than 5 years)

None

9 Typical on-the-job training needed to attain competency - This category encompasses any additional training or preparation that is typically needed, once employed in an occupation, to attain competency in the skills needed in that occupation.

Int: Internship/Residency: training that involves preparation in a field such as medicine or teaching, generally under supervision in a professional setting, such as a hospital or classroom.

App: Apprenticeship: a formal relationship between a worker and sponsor that consists of a combination of on-the-job training and related occupation-specific technical instruction in which the worker learns the practical and theoretical aspects of an occupation.

LOJT: Long-term on-the-job training: more than 12 months of on-the-job training or, alternatively, combined work experience and formal classroom instruction.

MOJT: Moderate-term on-the-job training: skills needed for a worker to attain competency in an occupation that can be acquired during 1 to 12 months of combined on-the-job experience and informal training.

SOJT: Short-term on-the-job training: 1 month or less.

Step 3

How Do I Decide?

In Step 1, you looked at your interests, skills, and work values. In Step 2, you looked at Delaware's overall labor market. Now it's time to ask yourself some more questions. How much education or training do you need or want? What wages do you hope to make? Where do you want to live? Combine all that you have learned in Steps 1 and 2 with what you will learn in Step 3 to refine your occupational choices.

How Much Education Do I Need or Want?

How much education would you like to attain now, or eventually?

Ask yourself:

- Will more education help me meet my occupational goals?
- Will it be worth it to me financially?
- What kind of education suits my personality and learning style?

Add your desired level of education or training to the Occupation Comparison Chart on page 48 – Column 1 (My Profile), Row 7 (Education).

Education Pays in Higher Earnings and Lower Unemployment Rates

Something else to consider is that the unemployment rate is inversely related to the amount of education you have attained. The more education you have, the less likely you are to be unemployed.

NOTE: Data are for persons 25 and over. Earnings are for full-time wage and salary workers.

Education Pays!

One major benefit of a college degree is having more higher-paying jobs to choose from. As you browse occupations throughout the planning process, take note that some occupations require additional training or preparation (once employed in the occupation) to attain competency in the skills needed in that occupation. For some occupations, work experience in a related occupation may be a typical method of entry.

Are You a Student Athlete?

Many young people dream of the fame in the sports world. However, the number of people aspiring to these glamorous jobs far outnumbers the actual openings. According to the NCAA, more than 480,000 students compete as NCAA athletes, and only a select few within each sport move on to compete at the professional or Olympic level. Even if you do get drafted, there is no guarantee that you will become rich and famous. And what if you have a career-ending injury?

NCAA Eligibility Requirements

To play Division I or II sports, you have to qualify academically. To meet the minimum requirements for student athletes enrolling in college, you must do the following:

- Graduate from high school
- Earn a minimum Grade-Point Average (GPA) in core courses to compete in your first year of college (2.3 GPA is required for Division I and 2.2 GPA is required for Division II. Division III schools set their own requirements)
- Complete 16 Core Courses (For Division I, 10 of your 16 NCAA-approved credits must be completed before the start of your seventh semester (senior year). A list of Core Courses can be found at NCAA.org)
- Receive your Academic and Athletics Certification via the NCAA Eligibility Center (not required for Division III)
- As of January 2023, standardized test scores are not required for all student-athletes who initially enroll full time on or after August 1, 2023. Divisions I and II adopted legislation to remove standardized test scores for these students. Check with the NCAA school you plan to attend regarding whether standardized test scores are necessary for admission or scholarship requirements.

Recruiting

Recruiting looks different at every division and in every sport. Before you get recruited, you should understand that coaches initiate most recruiting conversations, exposure matters (campus, film, club participation), academics are part of the recruiting decision, and communication rules vary by division and grade level. Learn more at NCAA.org.

Have a Back-Up Plan

If you are passionate about a sport, do not give up on your dream! But be realistic and have a backup plan. There are several occupations that will allow you to work in professional sports and stay close to the game. Below are just a few examples of sports-related careers you may want to check out. Your Money

What happens when you leave home, get your own place, and have to start paying all of the bills on your own...such as rent, groceries, phone and electric bills? Reality will set in! If you're not careful, you'll find it tough to pay all of your bills and still afford a social life and leisure activities. However, developing a budget can help. Try working through the budget activity on the next two pages.

Reality Check

This activity was designed to help you understand your personal financial needs based on your desired lifestyle. In general, after deducting your monthly expenses, taxes and savings, your take home pay should be greater than your expenses. Keep your personal needs in mind as you complete this activity.

Directions:

Step 1 - Write down the annual entry wages of your desired occupation. *

$ _____

Step 2 - Under each category below, choose the option that best applies to your desired lifestyle and write the amount on the line in the totals column.

* To find wage information, go to: www.onetonline.org. Enter your occupation into the Occupation keyword search box at the top right of the screen. Choose your occupation from the generated list. Scroll to the bottom of the Summary tab and under the header, Wages and Employment Trends, choose the state in which you are interested. Your first job will most likely fall into the Annual Low category. You will earn more with experience.

Reality Check Review

How does your budget look? Do you have any money leftover or will you need to cut your expenses? Based on what you have learned, write your desired wage under Column 1 (My Profile) on Row 8 (Entry Wage) of the Occupation Comparison Chart on page 48.

Based on this exercise, I would like to earn an entry wage of:

$ _____

Where Do I Want to Live?

Once you figure out your budget, you will need to think about where you want to live. Ask yourself some basic questions to help you decide:

- Do I want to live near my family?
- Do I want to live somewhere where it is cold and snowy in the winter?
- Do I want to live near the beach?
- Is getting the job I want more important than where I live?

If where you live is important to you, write your two favorite locations under Column 1 (My Profile) on Row 9 - Job Location(s) - of the Occupation Comparison Chart on page 48.

Consider the cost of living in your decision-making. Look at the table below to see how the cost of goods and services varies in different locations across the United States.

You Need a Plan...a Career Plan!

Whether you think you will continue your education after high school or maybe pursue other career training options, you are going to need a plan. Remember, for as much of your life as you will likely spend at your future job, it is really important that you enjoy the work as much as possible. Even if your career choice requires several more years of education after high school, that's a small investment of time to be able to do something you want the rest of your life. Fill out the Career Plan below to help get you moving in the right direction.

1. MY OCCUPATIONAL GOAL:

2. MY POST-SECONDARY GOALS: (What will I do after I graduate high school to prepare for my occupational goal?)

 Check all the boxes below for goals that apply to you and then list the tasks you must accomplish in order to meet your occupational goal.*

☐ GOAL: I will need more formal education. What degree(s) or certificate(s) will I need to pursue? How many years will this take? Which schools offer this degree? How will I pay for it?

TASKS

☐ GOAL: I will need vocational or on-the-job training. What training do I actually need? How long will it take? Where can I get this training? Can I apprentice? Is there financial aid available?

TASKS

☐ GOAL: I will go straight to work. Where do I want to work? Be specific. What's the application process? Who do I know that could help me?

TASKS

☐ GOAL: I will build more skills & experience. I could volunteer, job shadow, hold occupational interviews, work part-time, take an internship, etc. How exactly will you build your skills and experience?

TASKS

☐ GOAL: I will build character and maintain my health. I could join professionals or student organizations, take leadership roles, define my values, play sports, exercise regularly and eat healthy foods. What exactly do I plan to do?

TASKS

☐ GOAL: I will build my personal & professional network. I can add people who work in my chosen field and those who are supportive in my personal life. Where will I store this information and how will I maintain it?

How Do I Match Up?

Complete this chart to evaluate all that you have learned about yourself and the world of work.

Column 1

Complete this column with information you have discovered about yourself. Use the page numbers and resources provided.

Columns 2 & 3

Complete these columns for the two occupations you want to compare. Fill in each cell using the information you have found through your research. If you are missing any information, you know where to find it! www.onetonline.org

8	Entry Wage	p. 45
9	Job Location(s)	p. 46

O*NET does not classify occupations by likes (hands, people, information) or learning styles (visual, auditory, kinesthetic/tactile), but you can probably guess where most occupations fall. Keep those preferences in mind, as well.

What Is My Best Match?

Analysis

Occupation Comparison Chart

1. On the previous page in Columns 2 & 3, circle each item that matches or is pretty close to matching your personal profile in Column 1.

NOTE: If your Holland Code is AIR and the Code for one of your occupations is AIS, that's still a very close match. It might also be a close match if the A and I are switched (IAR), unless your Artistic personality is extremely dominant. Use your judgment.

2. Now determine which of the two occupations from the chart matches your personal profile better. Complete the sentence at the bottom of this page "This occupation is my best match so far:" with the name of that occupation.

3. Complete the second sentence "I am also considering this occupation:" with another occupation if you believe it could also be a good match.

4. If you are not satisfied with your results, fill out the Occupation Comparison Chart again. This time, use two different occupations that you identified in Steps 1 – 3 to see how well they match your profile. Or you may want to research different occupations from O*Net. It's possible that the best match for you is an occupation that, at this time, you don't even know exists.

Reality Check

Do you still want to consider your dream occupation from Step 1?

If your dream occupation didn't make it to this page as a good match, but you're not ready to let it go, then it's worth researching in the real world. See if you can interview someone, or volunteer, or intern in your dream job to gain a better understanding of what the occupation really entails. It will be worth it to you in the long run.

What to do if your dream job is not a good match after all:

1. Enjoy your dream as a hobby.

You may enjoy writing but you don't have the self-discipline required to make a living as a novelist. Find a more suitable occupation for your day job, but don't give up your writing.

2. Find a different occupation in the same field of interest.

What if you don't have the talent to make it as a professional athlete? You might find career satisfaction as a coach, trainer, team marketing specialist, sports reporter, etc. There are many occupations in which you can indulge your love of sports and still earn a good living.

3. Consider the same occupation in a different environment.

If you have dreamt of becoming a teacher, but realize you're not cut out to teach in a classroom, consider other teaching environments. You could tutor students privately or teach online classes. Determine which kind of environment you do enjoy and research teaching jobs that fulfill that need.

Don't be afraid of failing!

Overcoming the fear of failure means understanding that failure is normal, learning from your mistakes, and trying again without shame. Mistakes show you what to fix. Every setback teaches you a useful lesson.

Everything you've done thus far in the Delaware Career Compass has been on paper or on the computer. The activities have provided you with information to get you started on your career adventure, but nothing can take the place of going into the real world to try out jobs firsthand.

This occupation is my best match so far: _____

I am also considering this occupation: _____

How Do I Do It?

In Step 1, you looked at your interests, skills, and work values. In Step 2, you looked at Delaware's overall labor market. In Step 3, you chose the occupation most suited to your self-assessment. Now comes the fun part! It's time to take your goals and turn them into reality. Whether you're looking for additional training or education, looking into the military, or thinking about employment, this step will provide you valuable assistance.

SECTION 1: High School and Career & Technical Education

Make the Most of High School

1. Take a variety of classes to discover what you're good at and what interests you. Take a chance – try something new.
2. Consider Career & Technical Education (CTE). Join a CTE student organization.
3. Appreciate the diversity of your classmates. Learn to work with all types of people. Move out of your comfort zone.
4. Choose a career pathway that matches your interests and skills.
5. Take advantage of extracurricular activities that interest you. Try sports, clubs, music, community theater, scouts, babysitting, lawn care, photography, etc., to learn new skills, build character, and practice responsibility.
6. Get really, really good at something – anything.
7. Volunteer to work in a job that you think might be a good career match. What you perceive about an occupation is very often different from the reality of it.
8. Find a summer job that will provide you with more insight into the world of work and how you fit in.
9. Make mindful decisions. Think about the person you want to become and the place you want to fill in this world because you are shaping that person right now.

What is Career & Technical Education?

Technical jobs are very much in demand today. Career & Technical Education (CTE) is dedicated to providing secondary students with the education and skills they need to be successfully employed after graduation or to advance to postsecondary education.

CTE includes a wide variety of programs that are designed to equip you with career and life skills. As a CTE student, you can explore career options, gain close insight into a number of fields, prepare for a wide range of occupations, earn college credit while you're still in high school, and experience on-the-job work-based learning. Students who successfully complete these programs can continue their education and enter high-skill, high-wage, high-demand careers.

Career & Technical Education in Delaware High Schools

Delaware's goal is for every high school graduate to be college or career ready, and there are multiple avenues available for each student to achieve that. The old separate paths where some students went to public or private high schools to prepare for college while others went to a vocational school to prepare directly for work are no longer as distinct. Now, all public and most charter schools offer a variety of career and technical education (CTE) pathways where students can get real work experience and earn certificates employers look for when hiring, as well as prepare for college. Vocational-technical (Vo-Tech) schools focus primarily on career readiness, but also prepare students for further post-secondary education.

DELAWARE PATHWAYS

Delaware Pathways is a statewide program that connects students, schools, and employers through high-quality career pathways so every student graduates ready for what's next. Delaware Pathway Programs help students develop the academic, technical, and employability skills to gain the real-world experience needed for successful in-demand jobs. You can use the tools provided on their website to kickstart your education and career goals. You can explore pathways, explore career interests, and create your educational plan. View the site here: <https://delawarepathways.org>.

The Delaware Pathways website also allows you to view available pathways at the different school districts in Delaware. The website also provides sports programs, CTE student organizations, languages, and work-based learning & apprenticeship opportunities available in the schools. Links to the school's individual course catalogs are provided here as well. This information can be found at: <https://delawarepathways.org/schools/>.

You can find more detailed information about the pathway programs and the offerings in each school/district by visiting <https://delawarepathways.org/pathways-programs/>.

Should I join a CTE Student Organization?

If you're looking for ways to enhance your career and technical education experience, participate in a student organization. Currently, there are eight active organizations available to students enrolled in career and technical education programs. These student organizations can have a very positive impact on career development because they offer "real-life" experiences, insight into careers, and the chance to make valuable contacts with business professionals. Contact a counselor or career and technical education teacher to join.

Preparing Students for High-Demand Careers

We believe the best way to ensure Delaware students are the best candidates for high-demand careers in our state is to offer them work-based learning experiences. At the Delaware Office of Work-Based Learning, we coordinate with schools, employers, and community-based organizations to provide students with the hard and soft skills essential for workplace success.

With work-based learning, students experience:

- Awareness - Learn about fields of interest through guest speakers, workplace tours and career fairs.
- Exploration - Make personal connections and "test drive" careers through job shadows, industry-led projects, and informational and mock interviews.
- Immersion - Gain hands-on work experience through internships, clinicals, and apprenticeships.

At the Delaware Office of Work-Based Learning, we are building a strong, work-based learning infrastructure across the state so our schools are supported, our students are prepared, and our industries are thriving with a talented homegrown workforce.

Students & Parents: Ask your school's Career & Technical Education (CTE) coordinator how to get involved with our work-based learning programs!

SECTION 2: Career Readiness

Am I Eligible to Work?

Delaware developed laws many years ago to protect anyone under 18 from harmful employment practices by an employer. These laws are designed to prevent you from using dangerous equipment and to limit the number of hours you can work. You should know your eligibility requirements and be aware of what you can and cannot do on the job.

How old do I have to be to work in Delaware?

You must be at least 14 years old.

Do I need a permit?

Yes. Most public middle schools, high schools, and school district offices have Child Labor Work Permit forms. They are also available for download on our website at <https://industrialaffairs.delaware.gov/child-labor-law>. After you have filled out the center part of the form and the employer has filled out the upper part, a designated issuing officer will validate the permit at one of our office locations. You also have the option to submit the form via email to: workpermits@delaware.gov. Be sure to attach to the email (or bring with you if in person) valid proof of age in the form of government issued identification: Birth Certificate, Passport, Baptism Certificate or a State issued driver's license. Once the completed work permit is reviewed by the Wage and Hour staff, a determination will be emailed back to the minor. If you are getting your permit at your school, the issuing officer can use your school records to verify your birth date.

You may also pick up a work permit from our DE Department of Labor offices:

- 4425 N. Market Street, 3rd floor, Wilmington
- 252 Chapman Road, Christiana Bldg., Suite 210, Newark
- 650 South Bay Road, Suite 19A, Dover
- 8B Georgetown Plaza, Suite 2, Georgetown

NOTE: A new permit must be obtained and submitted every time you change employers.

Do I need my parents' permission to get a work permit?

If you are 14 or 15 years old, your parent or legal guardian must sign your work permit. This is not required for 16- and 17-year-olds.

Must I carry my permit with me when I'm at work?

No. You will give one permit copy to your employer to keep on file. Another copy will be kept on file at the Department of Labor in Wilmington until you reach age 18. A third copy should be kept for your own records. You must obtain a work permit each time you change jobs until age 18.

What hours can a 14- or 15-year-old work?

You may work between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. from the day after Labor Day until May 31st. From June 1st through Labor Day, you may work between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m.

Call (302) 761-8200
for more information on work eligibility
(Select option 3 for Labor Law Enforcement)

You are also limited to the following:

- On school days: 4 hours
- On a non-school day: 8 hours
- Any 5-day school week: 18 hours
- During vacation weeks: 40 hours
- No more than 6 days in any week

What hours can a 16- or 17-year-old work?

You are limited to 12 hours a day in a combination of your school and work hours. And, you must have 8 consecutive hours of non-work, non-school time in each 24-hour period.

What kind of work is NOT allowed for teenagers under the age of 18 years?

Some examples are using deep fat fryers, baking, construction work, any job using ladders or scaffolds, loading and unloading trucks, and jobs in warehouses (except office and clerical work). Any outside shrub/lawn/tree cutting machinery (for example, chain saw, lawn mower, string trimmer and/or hedge trimmer) that is powered by either electric, battery and/or motor fuel (gasoline) is prohibited. Using or cleaning slicing machines, dough-mixing machines, and many metal-forming, punching, or shearing machines is prohibited. The erection and/or repair of electrical wires is also prohibited. NOTE: Contact the DE Department of Labor for a complete list of prohibited occupations, and any vocational school exemptions. This information is also available on our website.

Is there any kind of work I can do without getting a work permit or while I'm younger than 14 years old?

Babysitting, domestic work, or chores in private homes, a golf caddy, and delivering newspapers (if you buy the papers and offer them for resale). Also, if your parent or legal guardian owns a business, you are allowed to perform any non-hazardous work assignment.

What is the minimum amount of money I can be paid?

The minimum wage in Delaware for youth ages 14-17 is $15.00/hour before any deductions are made for taxes or benefits.

However, if you have a job where customers regularly give tips, your employer may pay you as little as $2.23/hour. Tips may not be taken or retained by an employer except as required by law. Tip pooling is permitted (under certain circumstances) in an amount not to exceed 15% of the actual tips received by the employee.

Do I get a break at work?

You are not permitted to work more than 5 hours continuously without a nonworking period (break) of at least one half hour. The employer is required by law to give you this "uninterrupted" break.

Is Registered Apprenticeship Right For Me?

Registered Apprenticeship is an employer-driven, “earn while you learn” model that combines on-the-job training with a related classroom or technical instruction. Registered Apprentices are sponsored by their employer and therefore typically work during the day and attend school at night. Registered Apprenticeship is a proven approach for preparing workers from age 16+ for jobs while meeting the needs of business for a highly-skilled workforce.

If you are not currently employed or working and looking at another career opportunity, consider looking into a Registered Pre-Apprenticeship Program.

Is the Military for Me?

The United States Armed Forces is a career alternative you may want to consider. In the military, you can learn marketable job skills, make good friends, and develop a positive, winning attitude. The pay scale is competitive with many starting salaries in the private sector, and many allowances paid out by the military are tax-exempt. If a college education is one of your priorities, tuition support programs are one of the ways that the military can help you with the rising cost of postsecondary education.

About the Military

The U.S. Military consists of five active-duty Services and their respective Guard and Reserve units. All branches are equal parts of the United States Uniformed Services, headed by the president as Commander in Chief. Reserve and National Guard units perform as active-duty servicemembers on a part-time basis. These troops train close to home, deploying when needed to aid in international conflict or domestic disaster relief. Each one differs in specific programs, terms of duty and enlistment options.

Reasons to Join:

- Compensation • World Travel • Education Support • Personal Improvement
- Professional Training • Insurance & Retirement Benefits

Entering the Military

In order to join the service, you must be 18 years of age (or 17 with permission from your parent or guardian) and a U.S. citizen or legal immigrant holding permanent resident status. Before serving in the Military, there are a few things a young adult can do to prepare. The ASVAB Career Exploration Program (<https://www.military.com/join-armed-forces/asvab>) can help young adults discover suitable jobs. Likewise, they must meet certain requirements to serve, including age, educational, and physical prerequisites. Once committed to service, training begins in the form of boot camp.

Joining the military is a big decision. Do your homework so there won't be any surprises and be sure to discuss your desire to serve with your family. To learn more about military life and careers, explore websites like <https://www.military.com/> and www.careersinthemilitary.com. You can also visit the specific service websites listed on this page.

Private Business and Trade Schools

Attending a private business or trade school offers a fast, focused path to employment, lower overall costs, and practical training. Most programs take anywhere from several months to two years to complete, allowing you to join the workforce much faster than a traditional four-year university. Total program costs are generally significantly lower than those at four-year colleges, meaning less student loan debt upon graduation. Curriculums cut out generalized non-major requirements and focus intensely on practical, job-ready skills for fields like the trades, healthcare, or business technology.

The Delaware Department of Education (DDOE) approves all private business schools and trade schools operating in Delaware. Private business and trade schools are privately owned educational institutions – both for profit and nonprofit – run by an owner, partnership, or corporation. These schools are usually associated with business, trade and specialized skills training.

DDOE requires private business schools and trade schools to apply for and receive an initial certificate of approval as well as an annual renewal of such certificates. To view businesses and trade schools that have been approved by DDOE, you can search the table on their website by program, business or school name:

<https://education.delaware.gov/families/college-career-life/private-business-and-trade-schools/>

How Do I Find the Right Job?

Finding the right job takes planning and preparation. Keep in mind that you're promoting a productive worker – you! Market all of the skills and abilities you have to help an employer succeed.

Maintaining a positive outlook throughout your job search can be difficult. But if you follow proven guidelines to help you organize your job search, you will improve your chances of success, even in a difficult job market.

TEST THE WATERS

Why not try out some jobs before you make a long-term commitment?

- Volunteer - volunteering will provide you with valuable personal and work experience which can be an important resume builder. It will also provide you with unique experiences that can help you solidify your career goals, develop teamwork and leadership abilities, learn new skills, and in some cases earn high school credit. Visit: <https://volunteer.delaware.gov/>
- Internship - see if you can find an internship. To learn more, visit: <https://sos.delaware.gov/internships/>.
- Job Shadow - you might job shadow someone. Each job shadowing experience can be different. However, you typically will follow an employee and observe them partaking in their day-to-day work. They might ask you to help with certain tasks, as well. Job shadowing can be done as part of a formal program organized by a high school, or it can be scheduled informally. You can usually find a formal job shadowing program through your high school guidance counselor.
- Part-Time Job - you might also try a temporary or part-time job in an area that interests you. Any of these choices will provide you with valuable information about the real world of work.

BUILD A NETWORK

What is networking?

Networking is the cultivation of productive relationships for employment and business. It is most certainly a two-way street, and it is a skill worth perfecting because it will benefit you throughout your life.

Who should be in your network?

Start with family, friends, teachers, and neighbors. After you feel comfortable with those closest to you, broaden your network to those in your community who have similar career interests and who are currently doing jobs in which you are interested.

How do you network?

Involve yourself with groups that interest you and that pertain to your future career. Learn from the members of this group. Invite them to be your friends and your mentors. Approach someone and simply ask about his/her job. It's a great way to learn about an occupation. You never know, you may have just begun a relationship with the person who's going to connect you with your first job.

Introduce yourself

Always look the person in the eye, shake hands, and simply introduce yourself. If they ask you about yourself, do you know what you would say?

Document your contacts

As you build your network, document each contact. Keep a record of each person and include names, phone numbers, addresses, emails, how you know them, and what they do. Jot down any notes that will help you remember how you met them, who connected you, what skills they have, and how you might be valuable to them. Communicate with your network regularly.

SOCIAL MEDIA

While LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter are considered the top 3 social media sites that can help you find a job, there are hundreds of others out there too. Having a presence on social media allows job seekers to:

- Learn about openings faster than going to a company website.
- Expand your network of professionals in your career.
- Manage your professional image and attract recruiters.
- Research companies through their online presence.

These social media tools can be powerful if used correctly.

If a potential employer looked at your social media accounts, would they find information that doesn't represent you in a positive or professional way? What you post to the world on social media about yourself, and about others, can influence what employers think about you professionally. So be careful what you post!

Use these tips to help protect your online reputation:

- THINK before you share!
- Keep your accounts private so that only people whom you have granted permission can view what you post.
- Delete inactive accounts.
- Talk with your family and friends about what you do or don't want shared.
- Consider untagging yourself from photos.
- Sign up for personal alerts tied to mentions of your name.

Use Your Resources

Join a job club

Job clubs for graduating students often provide opportunities to participate in mock interviews and resume workshops.

Use your school career center

Explore your high school career facility and see how you can benefit from the services it offers.

Use your public library

Explore the resources in your local library's career center. Ask for assistance from the librarian.

Use the Internet, but not exclusively

Online postings are an effective way to conduct a job search, but in today's market, don't forget that face-to-face networking and "pounding the pavement" are still critical.

Use social media

Social media is opening more doors for jobseekers by increasing visibility with potential employers and providing an easy way for getting more information on a particular interviewer or company.

Go to job fairs

Job fairs can be a place to find a job, but they're also a place to network for future jobs. Even if you're not yet looking for work, you will learn a lot about the world of work by attending a job fair. Bring your questions!

Informational Interviews

What is an informational interview?

An informational interview is similar to a face-to-face job interview except you are gathering information about occupations by asking the questions instead of answering them. This is a more formal way to network and learn about the world of work at the same time. Call someone in a field that interests you and make an appointment to interview him/her about their work. You will not only learn about the occupation, but you will broaden your network and develop a relationship with someone who might hire you someday.

How can they benefit me?

1. You will learn firsthand about occupations from the people who are actually doing the work.
2. You will build your network with people who are in your field.
3. You will improve your interviewing skills.
4. You might learn about hidden (unadvertised) jobs.

What guidelines should I follow?

- Interview people from your occupations of interest.
- When you call, say how you got the person's name.
- Explain that you're seeking information and guidance.
- Ask to meet for 20 minutes. Wear a watch and stick to it.
- Bring paper and pen with you and take notes.
- Thoroughly research the occupation and organization prior to the interview.
- Dress and act as you would at a job interview.
- DON'T ask the person for a job.

What questions might I ask?

- How did you get into this type of work? this particular job?
- What type of preparation/education/training do you have? What is required?
- What do you enjoy the most? the least?
- What three skills do you use most often in your job?
- Describe a typical day or week.
- What motivates you at work?
- Describe difficulties you regularly face on the job.
- What are the advancement opportunities and limits?
- How does a person usually progress in this field?
- How does a person stay competitive in this field?
- How do you suggest I learn more about this occupation?

How should I follow up?

- Thank the person.
- Ask for referrals to other people doing the same occupation who might be available to speak with you.
- Ask for his or her business card.
- Immediately send a thank you note.
- Evaluate how well you conducted the interview. How will you improve your interviewing skills next time?
- Review your notes and decide on your next steps. Did you like what you heard about the occupation? Did you like the environment of this particular workplace? Could you see yourself working there or someplace similar? If not, why not?

Resume Writing

A resume is a marketing piece designed for one specific purpose: to win the interview. A good resume will focus on the employer's needs, not yours. It will say to the employer – if you hire me, you will get these direct benefits.

TIPS & SUGGESTIONS

Gather the Facts

Gather and document your personal information. Think about the things that make you unique. Update your file as you gain new experience, learn new skills or win awards.

Contact Information

Place your name at the top of your resume and your contact information beneath it. Be sure the outgoing message on your answering machine or cell phone is professional. Include an email address and check it regularly. If you are a member of LinkedIn, you may add that to your contact information if the content will support your job search.

Profile

Customize each resume with a profile statement that matches the job listing. Keep it concise. Try not to go over four brief sentences.

Education

If you have not yet completed one of your degrees, use the word expected before your graduation date. If you do not know when you will graduate, add in progress after the name of the unfinished degree.

Experience

Emphasize results, not responsibilities, and performance, not just qualities. Results might include the actual amount of time and/or money you saved or the percentage increase in a club's membership because of your leadership. Performance might include the number of phone lines answered, the number of forms processed, or the number of people supervised. Any team successes should be noted as such. Build your list using strong action verbs; see the list on page 60 for examples.

Activities/Associations

If you don't have much solid work experience, list your involvement in school or extracurricular activities. Employers look for people who demonstrate initiative, hard work, and leadership.

Special Skills

Highlight your impressive skills even if they don't relate directly to the occupation. These skills reflect the interesting and accomplished person you are.

Awards/Honors

Note formal recognition you have received including work or academic awards. These are often listed in the experience or education section but may be listed separately.

Other Personal Information

You should include information that is important to the job for which you are applying. This might include a portfolio or a willingness to travel. Do not include a link on your resume to any site that isn't appropriate for a business audience. Do not disclose information on health, disability, marital status, age, or ethnicity. This information is illegal for most employers to request.

References

Create your own reference sheet to mail or fax to an employer and to take it with you to interviews. Include three to five people who know your abilities and will speak highly of you. At the top of the sheet, type your name and contact information, repeating the format you used in your resume.

Choose a Format

Now that you've gathered your information, determine how to best present it to a specific employer for a specific job. Two traditional resume formats are chronological and functional. See samples of these on page 61. You should choose the format that will highlight your qualifications while best meeting the needs of the employer. Regardless of the style you choose, remember to use strong action verbs to begin each statement. Use the Resume Action Verbs list on page 60 to help you. If you have a work history with gaps, use the cover letter to explain them. Or you could fill the gaps with your volunteer work, community activities, or family responsibilities during those times.

Add Style

Create a good impression with an attractive and easy-to-read resume. An inviting style draws attention to your qualifications.

- ~ Print it on white or lightly-colored paper.
- ~ Use a laser printer and keep the font size at 10 point or higher.
- ~ Bullets or italics can draw attention to key accomplishments.
- ~ One-inch margins around the page and blank lines between sections will make all of the information easier to see.

- ~ Maintain the same style throughout. If your first heading is bold and centered, then every heading should be bold and centered. Use no more than two typefaces.
- ~ It is preferable to limit your resume to one page. If you are over this, remove anything that does not help prove that you are the perfect candidate for the job.

Proofread

Make sure your resume has no errors. Proof for typos, grammatical errors, spelling errors, punctuation errors, and content errors. Use your spell check but also have several people proofread your resume. Put your best foot forward!

Delaware JobLink Resume Building Wizard

Delaware JobLink is a web portal that allows job seekers to easily build unlimited resumes relevant to employers' needs. It encompasses thousands of vocations in its database and breaks each down into a detailed mix of the skills, required knowledge, abilities and duties of various occupations. It also outlines the variety of talents, tools and technologies generally necessary to perform each occupation's work activities. Job seekers are able to select these descriptors to construct high quality individualized resumes that match their work experiences. These same descriptors are "intelligently" auto-matched to the qualifications of job openings posted into Job Link by hiring employers.

Benefits of using the resume builder are many and include:

- Higher quality, more descriptive resumes
- A user friendly, self-service online resource available 24/7
- Easy to follow instructional videos with step-by-step guidance
- An easy to read, professionally formatted resume
- Accurate candidate/job matches

You can access and create a job seeker account via the Resume Building Wizard by visiting the Delaware Job Link website at <https://joblink.delaware.gov>.

By creating or updating/reactivating a previously created job seeker account you can:

- Perform advanced job searches
- Create and post resumes
- Save job searches for later viewing
- Receive job alerts by email or text

Additional benefits associated with creating a job seeker account include:

- Orientation video explaining DET's services and programs
- Access to DOL's One-Stop Partner Agencies services
- Career planning services
- Training and educational opportunities
- Job search resources
- Labor market information

Sample Resume Formats

Functional Resume

- Skills-based
- Not a lot of job experience
- Best for high school students

This format organizes your information around your job skills rather than job titles and dates. It is recommended for those with little job history or a history of positions that do not directly relate to the job being sought.

Identify three or four skills required for your target job. For each skill, identify three to five concrete examples that clearly demonstrate your ability to perform that skill. Arrange the skill headings in order of importance. The closer the match between your skill headings and the reviewer's expectations for the job vacancy, the more qualified you will seem.

Finally, include a brief work history. Include the company name, its location, your job title, and years worked.

Chronological Resume

- Job experience-based
- Best for someone looking to advance in their career

This format organizes your experience around the dates of the jobs you have held. Three to five results or performance items for each job are usually sufficient. This format is an excellent choice for people with steady work histories or previous jobs that relate closely to their career objective.

Cover Letters

Every resume you mail, fax, or email needs its own cover letter. Sending a resume without a cover letter is like starting an interview without shaking hands. The best cover letters spark an employer's interest and create an impression of competence. Write your cover letter in standard business format. Put your address and the reviewer's name and address at the top and your signature above your typed name at the bottom. All letters should be single-spaced, flush left, with each paragraph followed by a blank line. Most are two or three paragraphs long. Every cover letter should fit on one page and contain the following four parts:

Salutation

Whenever possible, send your letter to a specific person rather than to an office. Check that the name you use is spelled correctly and the title is accurate. Pay close attention to the Mr. or Ms. before gender-neutral names. Finally, use a colon after the name, not a comma.

Opening

The first few sentences of your cover letter should tell the reviewer which job you are applying for and the connection you have to the company. If someone the reviewer knows suggested you apply, mention that recommendation. If you are responding to an advertisement, refer to it and the source that published it. Your knowledge of the company will give you another opportunity to connect yourself to the job. Briefly describe your experience with its products, refer to a recent company success, or refer to an article written about the company. But don't go overboard; save specifics for the interview.

Body

This portion will contain a brief explanation of your qualifications. Don't repeat your resume. Summarize your most relevant qualifications or provide additional details about a noteworthy accomplishment. Address the employer's requirements directly and don't be afraid to use special formatting to your advantage. You can also use the body of the cover letter to address gaps in your work history. Always maintain a positive, confident tone.

Closing

In your final paragraph, thank the reviewer, request an interview, and repeat your home phone number. The closing is your chance to show commitment to the job.

Mr. Thomas Jeffers
Human Resources Manager
Downtown Green Hornets
1000 South Main Street
Downtown, DE 19801

Dear Mr. Jeffers:

I was referred to you by Mr. James Smith, Assistant Coach for the Green Hornets, who informed me that you are actively seeking to hire an Administrative Intern for the summer. This position appeals to me because of my strong interest in basketball and my desire to use and improve the computer and organizational skills I have developed through my classes and extracurricular activities at Downtown High.

My strengths include strong communication and time management skills, as well as great energy and dependability. I am proficient in both Microsoft Office Suite and Adobe Creative Suite. I enjoy taking digital pictures, many of which have been used in the Downtown High Yearbook. I am confident that the combination of my practical skills, my interest in basketball, and my ability to apply my knowledge to whatever tasks are given to me will make me a valuable asset to the Green Hornets organization.

I am enclosing a current copy of my resume. If you have any questions, please call me at (302) 555-1212. I may also be reached by email at JHightower@comcast.net. Thank you for considering me for this position. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Janet Hightower

Job Applications

Sometimes employers will ask you to fill out a job application on the spot. You will make a good impression by being prepared. Take the time to find out what type of information you will be required to provide. For a sample application that you can practice filling out online, visit: <https://laborfiles.delaware.gov/dcrn/docs/Sample-Employment-Application.pdf>. You can also print out a hard copy to practice filling it out by hand. Be sure to follow the tips below whether completing an application online or in person.

The Department of Labor's Office of Occupational & Labor Market Information has created the Pocket Resume & Interview Guide which allows you to fill out a card that folds up small enough to fit in your pocket so that you can take it with you to have on hand when filling out applications so that you have the information you need handy. The back side of the card is full of job interview tips. You can take a look at it on our website at: <https://lmi.delaware.gov/Publications/>. To request a hard copy, contact:

Kristie Manley
(302) 761-8064 or
Kristie.Manley@delaware.gov

Job Application Tips:

- Request two copies of the form. If only one is provided, copy it before you write on it. Most applications are now online.
- Read the whole application before you start to complete it. Follow all directions carefully.
- Be neat.
- Spell correctly and use good grammar. Take the time to double check all of your information!
- Don't leave any blanks. Put "not applicable" or "NA" when the information requested does not apply to you.
- Give reliable references. Be sure to request permission of each reference source in advance.
- Sign and date the application.
- Be sure to have a reference sheet with you when you apply.
- Never lie on a job application.

Sample Pocket Resume & Interview Guide

Job Interviews

Although an interview can be a stressful experience, consider it a form of recognition and an opportunity to gain something valuable without risking anything but your time. Prepare thoroughly, it will give you an advantage!

BEFORE THE INTERVIEW

Make a Job Search File

Collect anything you may need to be prepared for your job search and upcoming interviews. This is where your personal portfolio will come in very handy. Include the following:

- Birth certificate
- Several copies of your resume
- Social security card
- Work permit (if applicable)
- Copy of driver's license
- Diploma/Certificate
- Personal data sheet with previous employment information
- A copy of your references
- Letter of introduction
- A neat and complete copy of your job application
- Letters of recommendation
- A black pen to complete any forms or tests
- Paper to take notes
- Samples of your work, if needed

Prepare Yourself (checklist)

- ☒ Thinking positively and like a winner
- ☒ Dress appropriately
- ☒ Be sure your hair is clean and combed
- ☒ Be sure you have fresh breath
- ☒ Bring a comb/brush/cosmetics for touch-ups
- ☒ Use appropriate language
- ☒ Have a clean, fresh scent; use an appropriate amount of deodorant and/or perfume

Know Yourself

- How do your education, training, knowledge, and skills relate to the job for which you are interviewing?
- What makes you different and more qualified than other people?
- What are your goals and objectives, including what you're looking for in a job and/or career?
- What are the reasons you gave up or lost your previous positions?

Know the Company

- What are the products and services the company offers?
- What is the company's philosophy?
- What are their hiring practices and procedures?
- What are the duties/responsibilities/promotion potential for the job they are filling?

Prepare to Answer Questions

- Tell me about yourself.
- What are your long-range career objectives?
- What do you consider your greatest strengths and weaknesses?
- Why should I hire you?
- What interests you about this job?
- How do you handle pressure?
- What do you feel was your greatest accomplishment on your last job?

Prepare to Ask Questions

- What three words would you use to describe this company?
- Please describe the managerial style in this office.
- Is there anything else you need to know about me in order for me to be fully considered for the job?
- When will a decision be made?

DURING THE INTERVIEW

Things to keep in mind during the interview include:

- Go alone
- Arrive at least five minutes early
- Do not smoke or chew gum
- Know the name of the person interviewing you
- Smile and shake hands firmly
- Act naturally and maintain eye contact with the interviewer
- Answer clearly and honestly
- Be positive and enthusiastic; show your interest
- Do not criticize former employers
- Thank your interviewer before leaving

After the Interview

Write a Thank-You Note

It is essential to write a thank-you note within 24 hours of your interview. Whether you want the job or not, write the note; you never know when another job that's more suited to you will become available and it would be a shame to have burned your bridges.

The letter may be typed or neatly handwritten on personal stationery. It may be emailed if the decision is going to be made immediately or if you have been told that this is the employer's preferred means of communication.

You also have the opportunity to restate why you want the job and how you could make significant contributions to the company. And if there was anything of importance that your interviewer neglected to ask or that you neglected to answer as thoroughly, or as well as you would have liked, this would be a good opportunity to mention it. But keep it short; do not restate everything that was already covered.

Reflect on the Interview

How did you do? What did you learn about yourself? What did you learn about the company? Do you think the job would be a good match? What can you improve upon for your next interview? Jot down some notes and use them to make each interview stronger.

If you don't hear from the interviewer within two weeks, it is appropriate to call or write to politely remind him/her that you are still interested in the job. Ask when a hiring decision will be made.

Dear Mr./Ms. Last Name:

Thank the interviewer for his time and the opportunity to speak with him. Thank him for telling you about the company and the position. Mention your enthusiasm for the job and why you believe you are a good fit for it.

Include any impressions of the organization or position that you found especially interesting. Add any information you didn't share during the interview that you believe would increase your chance of getting the position.

Conclude by showing that you have a strong and sincere interest in the job and you look forward to hearing from him.

Select the Right Job

If you are offered the job, you may realize that you have further questions. Do not hesitate to ask for any information you need to make an informed decision.

Organization:

- Are the goals of the business or agency compatible with your work values?
- Are the immediate future prospects of the business relatively secure and stable?
- Does the business fluctuate with the growth and decline in the economy?

Work:

- What are the hours? Where is the job located?
- Does it fully utilize your abilities and interests?
- Is travel involved? If so, how much?
- How much turnover of personnel is there in the organization?

Opportunities:

- What are the training opportunities?
- What are the opportunities for challenge & expansion of job duties?

Salary and Benefits:

- What is the starting salary?
- How often and under what circumstances can a raise be expected?
- What is the complete benefit package?
- How financially secure is the retirement system?

Some Reasons You Weren't Chosen:

- Lack of clear career goals, or your goal doesn't match your skills or the job market
- Inability to express information clearly
- Lack of interest or enthusiasm—merely shopping around
- Failure to look interviewer in the eye; no confidence or poise
- Poor personal appearance
- Interested only in the best dollar offer
- Asking uninformed questions about the job or the company
- Arriving late for the interview
- Another candidate was a better fit

Email Correspondence

Email is one of the most commonly used means of communication in the job-search because of its many advantages. Email delivery is prompt and assured to be received (as long as you have the recipient's correct email address). Email is also less intrusive than a phone call since the recipient can read the message at his/her leisure.

If you use email wisely you will stand out among others, but if you use it improperly, you will look unprofessional to employers. When sending a professional email, try to briefly get your point across and end the email, don't ramble on as this can be irritating to some people.

There are some guidelines that should be followed when sending such correspondence as cover letters, thank you notes and replies to emails. Take these guidelines into consideration for every email you write:

- Use a clear subject header for your email, one that is relevant to the topic of the message.
- Address the recipient as Mr., Ms. or Mrs. and always double check the spelling of the recipient's name.
- Do not use emojis or symbols in your email, they are not professional.
- Stick with a basic font like Times New Roman, 12-point and keep the email clean (no wallpaper or colored backgrounds).
- Proofread and spell-check every message before you press send.

When corresponding with employers, your professionalism in an email says more about you than you realize. Keep in mind that the greeting and closing of your message will convey your tone. If your message is unclear and has typos, it can result in you being overlooked for the position.

Keep Your New Job

Congratulations, you got the job! When you start your new job, you will undoubtedly be excited that you are working, but don't let that slow you down as you settle into the new position. The following tips can help ensure that you will keep your job in the years to come:

DO...

- ✓ Always keep learning - Read books and study material to keep you up to date in your field.
- ✓ Maintain a positive attitude - Negativity spreads easily and can lead to trouble around the office.
- ✓ Show up on time - Being punctual isn't hard. Also, try to limit the number of days you miss.
- ✓ Be proactive - Ask your boss or other co-workers if there is anything they need help with.
- ✓ Meet deadlines - Deadlines are there for a reason. Manage your time right and meet them.
- ✓ Be easy to communicate with - Answer emails in a timely manner and communicate effectively.

DON'T...

- ✗ Show up late or leave early - These things show your boss and colleagues that you don't care.
- ✗ Avoid work - After your work is done, see if others need help, don't just sit around.
- ✗ Avoid emails - Respond to correspondence in a timely manner to co-workers and clients.
- ✗ Dress down - Don't become too relaxed in your work environment that your attire looks lazy.
- ✗ Complain - Word gets around, and this includes posting negatively about work on social media.
- ✗ Cause drama - There's nothing worse than being in an office filled with drama and tension.

Getting ready to work? You should know this! Drug and alcohol use has negative effects in the workplace. Many times, the use of alcohol or substances is an attempt to self-medicate an underlying mental health problem. If you have concerns about yourself or a loved one's mental health, call the Mental Health Hotline at: 800-969-4357 or visit www.HelpisHereDE.com.

SECTION 3: College

Preparing for College

College planning is a chance to learn more about yourself, explore your options, and take steps toward your future. Start by thinking about your interests, strengths, goals, and the type of college experience that may be a good fit for you. The best college choice is not always the most well-known school; it is the one that fits your academic goals, budget, support needs, and plans for the future.

This section will help you prepare for college during high school, understand financial aid, and compare college options so you can make an informed decision.

FRESHMEN & SOPHOMORES: Build Your Foundation

Develop strong habits, explore interests, and start learning about your options.

Action Steps:

1. Create your four-year academic plan. Meet with your school counselor to map out courses, graduation requirements, and future options.
2. Build strong school habits. Attend school regularly, use a planner or calendar, check grades weekly, and ask for help early. Build a homework routine (Same place. Same time. Phone away)
3. Explore your interests, strengths, and career options. Take interest surveys, learn about careers, and choose courses that keep future options open.
4. Get involved and start building your story. Join 1–2 clubs, activities, service opportunities, or teams, and keep a “brag list” of activities, leadership, awards, and accomplishments.
5. Explore colleges, careers, and programs. Learn about different pathways, attend college fairs or school events, and start noticing what interests you.

JUNIORS: Focus & Prepare

Challenge yourself, explore your options, and get ready for senior year.

FALL: Get Organized and Explore

1. Meet with your school counselor. Review graduation requirements, GPA, courses, career interests, and goals.
2. Take a challenging but balanced schedule. Choose courses that prepare you for your future without overwhelming you.
3. Take the PSAT/NMSQT if offered. Use your results to prepare for the SAT or ACT.
4. Explore colleges, programs, and majors. Visit colleges in person or virtually, attend college fairs, and meet with college representatives who visit your school
5. Think about fit. Consider location, cost, size, support services, programs, and career outcomes.

SPRING: Build Your Plan

1. Meet with your counselor again. Talk about senior-year courses, testing, financial aid, and next steps.
2. Take the SAT or ACT if needed. Use Delaware’s free SAT School Day and decide if you want to test again.
3. Build your college List. Visit colleges, attend college fairs, and talk with college representatives at your school. Use the DSS College List Builder at bit.ly/DSSCollegeList to create a list of options that may be a good fit.
4. Build your activity résumé. List activities, jobs, service, leadership, awards, family responsibilities, and accomplishments.
5. Think about recommendation letters. Identify adults who know your effort, growth, strengths, and character.
6. Start researching scholarships. Look for scholarships connected to your interests, goals, school, or community.

SUMMER BEFORE SENIOR YEAR: Get Ahead

1. Narrow your list of options. Finalize a working list of colleges and majors
2. Create application accounts. Use a professional email address for applications and scholarships.
3. Brainstorm essay ideas. Keep notes about meaningful experiences, challenges, responsibilities, and accomplishments.
4. Update your résumé or brag list. Add new activities, jobs, service hours, awards, and leadership roles.
5. Learn about financial aid. Review FAFSA, scholarships, grants, loans, and college costs.
6. Make a senior-year calendar. Track application, testing, scholarship, and financial aid deadlines.
7. Rest and reset. Prepare for senior year, but protect your time, health, and sleep.

SENIORS: Launch & Decide

Apply, complete financial aid, and make your plan.

FALL: Get Ready and Apply

1. Meet with your school counselor. Confirm graduation requirements, deadlines, and your college application plan.
2. Finalize your college list. Make sure your list includes colleges that fit your academic, personal, and financial goals.
3. Prepare application materials. Update your résumé or brag list and ask for recommendation letters early.
4. Submit college applications. Track deadlines and submit applications before they are due.
5. Complete financial aid steps. Submit the FAFSA and apply for scholarships.
6. Check email and portals regularly. Watch for missing items, updates, and next steps from colleges.

WINTER: Spring: Decide

1. Review admission and financial aid offers. Compare costs, scholarships, grants, loans, programs, and overall fit.
2. Visit or connect with colleges before deciding. Attend admitted student events, campus visits, or virtual sessions.
3. Make your final college decision. Choose the best fit and submit required forms or deposits by the deadline.

BEFORE SUMMER: Complete Final Steps

1. Finish enrollment tasks. Complete housing, orientation, placement testing, health forms, and other college requirements
2. Send your final transcript. Make sure your final high school transcript is sent to your college.
3. Prepare for the transition. Check your college email, review your bill, and get ready for your first semester.

What About Financial Aid?

What Is Financial Aid?

Financial aid is money that helps pay for education or training after high school. The money for financial aid comes from federal and state governments, the colleges themselves, scholarships, and as a last resort, private loans from banks.

You must apply for financial aid to get it. You apply for aid separately from admission to the school. Maximize your opportunity to receive aid by applying early. The amount and kind of aid you get is based on your financial need, your academic record, and on the kinds of aid available at the school you attend. Most students who receive aid get a combination of grants, loans, scholarships, and/or work-study funds that are put together in a “financial aid package” by the financial aid office at the school you have chosen.

What Types Are There?

If you see the FAFSA symbol below, it means that a FAFSA application is required in order to be eligible for that type of aid.

Grants:

Usually awarded based on financial need and do not have to be repaid (e.g., Federal Pell Grant*). FAFSA

Scholarships:

Money received based on financial need, grades, talent, career goals, service, or other criteria awarded by colleges, private organizations, states, and individuals. This money does not need to be paid back. bit.ly/Scholarships_CC

Work Study:

Money you earn. Jobs are usually on campus and are sometimes related to career goals or fields of study (e.g., Federal Work Study*). FAFSA

Federal Loans:

Money borrowed from the federal government. Typically repaid after you leave school at much lower interest rates than regular bank loans (e.g., Stafford Loan*). FAFSA

Aid for Military Personnel:

Financial aid opportunities that come with joining the military (e.g., Montgomery G.I. Bill). See how you can qualify at: https://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/montgomery_bill.asp

What is the FAFSA?

The FAFSA, or Free Application for Federal Student Aid, is the form students complete to apply for grants, work-study, federal loans, and some state, college, or scholarship aid. Students should complete it during senior year and each year they plan to attend college or training after high school.

Financial Aid Checklist:

- ☐ Create your StudentAid.gov account. You and your parent/guardian should each create your own account before starting the FAFSA.
- ☐ Complete the FAFSA. Submit the FAFSA as early as possible, beginning October 1st, to be considered for the most financial aid.
- ☐ Check your college or program deadlines. Some schools and scholarship programs have earlier financial aid deadlines.
- ☐ Apply for scholarships. Search for scholarships through your school, college, community organizations.
- ☐ Review your financial aid offers. Compare grants, scholarships, work-study, loans, and out-of-pocket costs before making a final decision.
- ☐ Ask questions before accepting loans. Make sure you understand how much you are borrowing, when repayment begins, and what your monthly payment may be.
- ☐ Check your email and student portals often. Colleges and financial aid offices may ask for additional information before your aid is finalized.

Hidden Costs of College

When budgeting for college, don't forget to include these expenses that students/families tend to overlook:

- Dorm Room Amenities (if applicable)
 - Supplemental furniture, room decor, tv/computer
- Text Books
- School Supplies
- Basic Toiletries
- Transportation
- Food and Meal Plans
- Laundry Services
- Social Activities

These expenses won't all come at once, so you've got time to prepare! And don't forget...you still have a full summer ahead to get a job and start saving for these types of expenses.

Financial Aid Opportunities

Delaware SEED (Student Excellence Equals Degree)

Maintain a 2.5 grade-point average and have no felony convictions and you will earn a SEED Scholarship. SEED provides tuition for eligible full-time students who are Delaware residents and will enroll in an associate's degree program at:

Delaware Technical & Community College

Delaware Scholarship Compendium

Students can search from over 300 local and national scholarships for college, trade school, and certificate programs. bit.ly/Scholarships_CC

AmeriCorps

AmeriCorps is a network of national programs throughout the U.S. and is made up of three programs: AmeriCorps State and National, AmeriCorps/Vista, and AmeriCorps/National Civilian Community Corps. AmeriCorps volunteers receive education awards for specified terms of service, which can be used to pay for college or pay back student loans. To learn more, visit: <https://www.americorps.gov/>

Pell Grant

A federal grant that helps eligible students with financial need pay for college or training after high school. It does not need to be repaid. Beginning July 1, 2026, some short-term workforce training programs may also qualify through Workforce Pell. Students must complete the FAFSA each year to be considered. For more information on the Pell grant visit:

<https://studentaid.gov/sa/types/grants-scholarships/pell>

Delaware Higher Education Office Scholarships

The Delaware Higher Education Office (DHEO) offers many scholarships based on academic merit, financial need or a combination of both. There are memorial scholarships for high school seniors that offer full tuition, fees, room and board at the University of Delaware or Delaware State University and there is a merit-based award for high school seniors that can be used nationally. The Scholarship Incentive Program is a need-based award for eligible students who file a FAFSA by the state deadline and complete the application process. There are scholarships available for high need career fields, high need teaching fields and education support professionals. Students can apply online for all of the programs administered through the Delaware Higher Education Office. For more information visit: <https://bit.ly/Scholarships-DE-Residents>

Focus on Alternative Skills Training Program (FAST)

FAST offers up to $10,000 tuition assistance to Delaware residents who have obtained a high school diploma, Diploma of Alternate Achievement Standards, or a Delaware secondary credential (which includes earning a GED) and have enrolled in an approved non-degree credit certificate program within 24 months of graduation from high school. Tuition payments are allowed for up to 12 months. For more information, visit:

<https://tinyurl.com/FASTPS>

Other Ways to Reduce College Costs

Early College Credit (ECC) - Students have various opportunities to earn early college credit in high school. Below are the most common ECC opportunities; you can learn more at bit.ly/DEarlyCollegeCredit_CC

- Advanced Placement Courses - Courses taught at the high school by a qualified high school teacher, followed by a test that may count for college placement or credit.
- Dual Enrollment Courses - College courses are taught at a high school by a qualified high school teacher for dual credit (both high school and college credit).
- International Baccalaureate - Choice curriculum with exams that can lead to the IB Diploma and college credit.

In-State Schools - In-state schools can save state residents thousands each year. Starting your career without a 5-figure student loan debt gives you a significant advantage.

Community College - You may be eligible to earn your two-year degree tuition-free through the SEED scholarship. Many degrees are connected to baccalaureate programs that allow students to transfer to another college and complete their bachelor's degree.

Employer Tuition Assistance - Employer tuition assistance is an employee benefit that some companies offer as a benefit and pays part (or in some cases all) of the cost of attending college or university classes. Some companies also offer scholarships, grants, and discounts with partnering institutions. When considering employment, ask if this is a benefit the company offers its employees.

Things to Consider When Choosing a College

Size of the Student Body

Large schools may offer more resources, facilities, and specialized majors. Smaller schools may offer more personal attention and connection.

Quality of the Program

How closely does the program align with your career goals? What is the program's reputation among professionals in your field?

Campus Life

What clubs, sports and extracurricular activities does the school offer? What housing options are available? What about off-campus activities?

Retention and Graduation Rates

Poor retention rates means students are likely switching schools. Low graduation rates can signal big problems in a school or program.

Range of Majors Offered

More opportunities to connect with students and faculty in overlapping disciplines. Changing your major doesn't necessarily mean switching schools.

Location

Colleges in large cities provide better access to businesses related to your field of study. Smaller communities may afford more opportunities for outdoor recreation.

Cost and Financial Aid Availability

In-state tuition may be cheaper, but enrolling in the right program can maximize your earning potential. Find out what aid is available for each school.

Diversity

Students and faculty from diverse backgrounds can expose you to new points of view. Becoming comfortable with different ways of thinking is essential in the globalized workforce.

Adjusting to Life on Campus

Going to college, especially if you are living on campus, is a big change. Some key things to know are how to manage your time, take care of your health, and ask for help when you need it. Talk with your advisor about your classes if you are struggling, visit teachers during office hours if you need help, use the free campus mental health center if needed, and talk to your RA if you are having trouble with a roommate. You will learn a lot about yourself that first year, just be sure to use the resources that are available to you!

Educate. Empower. Employ!

Guiding Delaware's Students from Classrooms to Careers.

- ✓ Enjoy a hands-on learning experience that gives you the skills to compete in our changing economy.
- ✓ Join the Delaware Career Association and engage in leadership, civic, and skill building activities.
- ✓ Receive credit towards graduation and the chance to complete a paid internship experience!

Jobs for Delaware Graduates is a career-preparatory course offered in 22 high schools and 12 middle schools. To register or learn more, talk to your JDG Teacher, School Counselor, or visit www.jobsdegrads.org today!

Looking to explore more career opportunities?

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation has the resources to help you succeed!

Services are individualized and may include:

- Meeting with a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor at your Delaware High School.
- Access to job exploration, work-based learning experiences, workplace readiness training and transition supports while you're in High School.
- Discover your skills through career assessments and explore options that match your interests and goals.
- Building confidence with résumé help, and interview preparation.
- Receiving support for job training, apprenticeships and navigating higher education options.
- Partnering with your Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor to create a plan to achieve your education and employment goals.

Vocational Rehabilitation is an eligibility-based program that helps people with disabilities obtain or retain employment. Funding for this program is provided by the U.S. Department of Education Rehabilitation Services Administration grant.
